Dear Jay Brick,

Oh my gosh! You were right. I wanted a kitchen that would make me say those words. day one, I felt confident that I was in the right hands with Gotham Builders. My contractor Jay asked me what I envisioned in my new kitchen and from then on, I knew I had made a wise choice with Gotham Builders. A completely remodeled kitchen is not for the faint heart so it's important that the contracting company have a good reputation. What is the best way of developing a good reputation than through your satisfied customers. My old kitchen did not do justice to me or the rest of my home. It was truly an eye sore. Now when I come into my kitchen I feel great. It really is beautiful and I've increased the value of my home (now that I plan to leave anytime soon). I now have a counter area with stools for eating breakfast and lunch and it's so much cozier. While I'm cooking, people are welcomed and chat with me now that I have an open space by the counter. I welcome my neighbors to come in for coffee and look at my beautiful kitchen!

I am grateful for the care that everyone took and for their utmost professionalism. The workers always informed me of their progress and when they would return. Jessie from the office would call me periodically to see how things were going. It was great knowing that if I had any concerns I could easily speak to someone.

I want to send my heartfelt gratitude to everyone involved who made my ugly duckling kitchen into a beautiful swan. Again "Oh my gosh".
Please feel free to use me as a referral to anyone considering a kitchen-remodeling job

Sincerely,

Sylvia Vargas
